For

and

PREFACE

Margaret Mead has observed that, of those who have traced their ancestry, "some feel less lonely, some feel more culpable, but all know more about who they are." Certainly I was not motivated to this effort by loneliness. Culpability, possibly, for a frequent thought was: why didn't I ask my Mother from whom I could have learned so much that is now lost forever.

But in agreement with Mead, I do know much more about who I am. I hope that others who read this will share that feeling through the knowledge of our long ancestry in this country. I have learned much about us.

Of course I have had help. Perhaps the most was given by my husband, Elmer D. West, who constantly encouraged me (shall I say prodded me to "get on with it"); who chauffered me on those necessary trips; who helped me in the search of court house records, archives, publications, cemeteries, and other sources; and who typed - and typed - and typed. It has, in many ways, been a "we" effort rather than an "I" effort.

There are so many others, however, who helped, encouraged, provided information. I can't name each of them here, but they are acknowledged in the references. To a large extent this publication is their effort and their story. I am grateful to them.

The task has been time-consuming. I regret that it has taken so long, so many hundreds of hours. But I am glad that I did it for it has been a gratifying task. I have identified with so many here-to-fore unknown relatives who have become, through correspondence, telephone conversations, and actual visits, dear friends.

A note on the numbering system. Each person is given a number, in sequence, when first mentioned. Thomas Skinner is No. 1; his children are Nos. 2, 3, 4. The next person discussed is No. 2: Thomas Skinner, son of No. 1; and his children are Nos. 5, 6, 7, etc. The number in parenthesis following the name refers to the immediate ancester. Thus 2. Thomas Skinner (1) means that this Thomas was the son of No. 1.

Any given individual will be shown in the numerical sequence, under the name of a Skinner or a Skinner descendant. The person may also be shown later if additional information is given about that person. Thus under 975. Mabel Clare Skinner (742) are listed four children, one of whom is 1115. Dorothy Lois Barton. She is also shown later as: 1115. Dorothy Lois Barton (975), where information is given about her and her children. And so on, as long as descendants are shown.

To find the ancestors of any given person, first find the person in the Index. Then find that number (person) in the descriptive material, and work backwards. Thus Dorothy Lois Barton is No. 1115; her parent is shown as No. 975. The parent of 975 is No. 742; of 742, 582, and so on back to No. 1.

References (sources of data and information) are given at the end of the write-up for a given person, and usually before the children of that person are mentioned. The list of references is at the end.

I hope you enjoy learning more about your relatives. I have.

1. Thomas Skinner: Immigrant. B. England (Essex or Sussex Co.?) circa 1617. Came to America from Chichester, England, between 1649 and 1651. Skinner (86) gives year as 1650 "at the age of 33." Thus, year of birth is 1617. Md. (1) in England, Mary Gooden who d. 9 April 1671; (2) Lydia (Shepardson) Call, widow of Thomas Call and dau. of Daniel and Joanna Shepardson of Malden, Mass. Thomas Skinner d. 2 March 1703/4 in Malden, Mass. Lydia d. 17 Dec. 1723 (gravestones at Malden, Mass.). Thomas was a "victualler" (inn-keeper). He had been admitted Freedman at Malden on 18 May 1653.

In 1652, in answer to a petition from the inhabitants of Malden ". . . the Courte doth Graunt libertye and license to Thomas Skinner to keep an ordinary ther . . ." Later the selectmen asked and received a broader license. ". . . Wee, whose names are underwritten Desyre that our Bror Thomas Skinner, may be lycensed to sell strong waters And Wine to supplie the necessitys of the Towne, and Travellers . . ." This license was granted and "so to our Thomas Skinner goes the doubtful honor of being the first recorded dealer in 'strong waters' in Malden." However, he did not long remain in the "Ordinarie" business.

The court files show that the town was petitioning for an "Ordinarie keeper" as the town of Malden was "destitute" of such.

In 1678-79 "Thomas Skinner was one of those interested in the plantation of Quansigamug (Worcester), but it does not appear that he took a personal part in the settlement. In 1680 he was Sergeant of the Malden Company in the first Regiment under Major Gookin. In 1679 and 1680 he served as constable, receiving a stipend of three pounds for the year. In 1680 he was appointed tithingman. (1:1-7) (2)(5:190)(8)(33)(50)(57:277)(58)(86)(96)(55)

Conn., 26 March 1704. They had moved to Colchester in 1700, Thomas being one of the original proprietors of that town. He d. between 1722 and 1732. He had served as a soldier in King Phillip's War, 1676, in Capt. William Turner's Company. He had also held town office.

Ref. 52 states: "Thomas, Malden, S. of the first Thomas, b. in England, by Mary, d. of Richard Pratt of the same, had Thomas, b. Nov. 1668; and he married Mary, d. of Thomas Gould, had John . . ." This would suggest that the Mary Skinner who d. in Colchester, Conn., was Mary Gould rather than Mary Pratt Skinner, and appears to be in error.

All the children were born in Malden, Mass. (1:8-11)(2)(5:190)(8)(33)(50)(52)(55)(57:278)(60)(65)(96)

After Abraham's death, Thomas then willed the property to Hannah, wife of Abraham. (1:7-12)(8)(33)(50)(52)(55)(57:277).

(5:90) or Abigail, dau. of William and Lydia (Brown) Lord. William Lord came in 1635 in the "Elizabeth and Ann." (55). The children are the same in both references. The four youngest children died within five weeks of "putrid sore throat" then "so prevalent within the Colony." All children were b. in Colchester, Conn.

Will dated 18 Oct. 1855, proved 14 Nov. 1755, wife Sarah executrix. (1:8, 32)(4:93)(5:190)(33)(55)(57:278)

Ref. 55 names all these children except Elijah and Joseph; and it also names Rebecca.

Skinner (62) suggests some confusion as to Nathaniel's ancestry. In it are listed 9 children of Nathaniel and Mary Gillett, with dates of birth identical to those here, except for one. Three children (Jonathan, Elijah and Joseph) are not given. Ref. 62 further confuses by giving John Skinner and Mary Easton as parents of Nathaniel. It also lists as children of John and Mary: Mary, b. 1664; John, b. 1666/7; Joseph, 1669; Nathaniel, 1672; Richard, 1674; Sarah, 1677; and Thomas, 1650. Six of these have the same names as six of the children of Thomas and Mary Pratt Skinner (see #2). Birth dates are different. The references to association between the Gilletts and the Skinners as found in Colchester Deeds (1:42-43) and the absence of such reference to Eastons, though not conclusive, adds to the argument that Nathaniel married a Gillett instead of an Easton; and that data from the references other than #62 are to be preferred.

Fernald stated that it "is very difficult to keep the Nathaniels distinct (1:45) and I am not sure that I have done it. There were at least two of adult age at a time, sometimes three, and the wives are not mentioned in the records, so no help can be had from their names." The fact that she knew and tried to keep the two or three separated adds to the argument in favor of her data.

15. Abigail Skinner (2): B. Malden, Mass. 17 Feb. 1691. Md. at Colchester, Conn. 13 July 1708, Ebenezer Mudge, b. in Northampton, Mass. 26 Feb. 1683; d. 21 April 1758. She d. in Sharon, Conn., 6 or 8 March 1765. (1:9)(8)(33)(52)(57:278)(60)(61)(62). (Note that 4 of the children md. Skinners.)

". . . Mr. Daniel Skinner, formerly from Mansfield, but more recently from Brewer (Me.) with three sons and three daughters at all ages of maturity . . . and as the members of the Skinner family married early and settled in their father's neighborhood, a numerous, industrious and intelligent progeny soon filled the neighborhood with loving souls, through whose veins ran quietly the Skinner love of domestic life; and so numerous were they that the neighborhood was very properly called the 'Skinner Settlement.'" (3:5)

Daniel served in 1775 in Capt. Samuel White's (7th) Co., Col. John Daggett's (Bristol Co.) Regt.; and as Sergeant, Lt. John Dean's Co., Col. Daggett's (4th Bristol Co.) Regt., 1776 (Massachusetts Militia).

The house Daniel built in 1794 is still in use today (1981). The area is called the "Skinner Settlement." The name of one child is unknown, as well as date of birth. In a letter dated 27 Aug. 1827 to a brother, Asahel said ". . . I have in my last Famely four Sons and four Daughters." He names Isaac as the youngest, then one year old. Thus the name of one son is missing in the above list; and Isaac was b. in 1836. (2)(7)(11)(20)(29)(36)(59)

Asahel left Maine in 1816. A newspaper article (78) gives some explanation of the reasons why he left. "When Daniel Skinner of the Skinner Settlement in West Corinth threw open the window shades of his bedroom on the morning of June 7, 1816 . . . on his front lawn and as far as the eye could see lay five inches of snow . . ." The time is remembered "as the year without a summer. Some called the year 'eighteen-hundred-and-froze-to-death.'"

"Ice formed half an inch thick, and corn was killed time after time . . . in Dexter . . . 40 families were struggling for survival."

It was during this period that "Ohio Fever" infected many an area resident. Rumors of greener valleys in the distant state swept through eastern Maine . . . Daniel Skinner . . . found himself waving farewell to one of his sons, Asahel, who could take no more of this hardship. Skinner left 25 years of labor in Corinth, with a yoke of oxen, a cow, a pregnant wife and 13 children - never to return."

The cause of this unusual condition was (79) the explosion of a volcano in the Dutch East Indies (now Indonesia) where Mt. Tambora on the island of Sumbawa threw volcanic ash into the upper air, resulting in lower temperatures at ground level as this volcanic dust circled the earth.
